

JAP STUDENTS WEANED AWAY FROM WORSHIP

(By Associated Press)
TOKYO, July 7.—The indifference of Japanese students above the middle school to ancestor worship is causing the government considerable concern, according to K. Yamada, chief of the Shinto affairs bureau in the home department, who addressed a general conference of the Shinto priests of Japan. Ancestor worship is a fundamental religious custom in this country and is closely related to national veneration for the imperial family and the imperial ancestors.

"It is regrettable that the higher education students receive in this country, the most indifferent is their faith in ancestral spirits," Mr. Yamada said.

"Judging from the number of visitors to the shrines and the amount of contributions such pilgrims make, there is every reason to conclude that despite the growing predominance of foreign objectionable ideas in this country since the late war, the spirit of worshipping ancestral shrines remains intact."

"A serious fact, however, is that whereas the elementary school children are always sincere and earnest in their faith, students studying in schools higher than middle schools show indifference toward such a matter."

"The worshipping of ancestral shrines is so closely associated with the national character of the empire that the above tendency cannot in the least be ignored as anything but serious. It is the authorities' decision that some proper steps be taken for the correction of the above undesirable state of affairs, assisted by the Shinto priests."

BRITISH COURTS WORKING HARD TO CLEAR CASES

(By Associated Press)
LONDON, July 7.—Since Easter the divorce courts have been working at high pressure to clear off an unprecedented accumulation of arrears which, added to a steady stream of new cases, threatened at one time to overwhelm the physical capacity of the bench.

It needed the assistance of a number of retired judges to make headway against the avalanche of suits, with the result that they have been disposed of at the average rate of two score or more per day.

The lord chancellor, Lord Birkenhead, himself lent assistance by acting as an ordinary judge in the courts. Reviewing the situation, he said:

"The war has left a degree of unrest which has spread into almost every sphere of modern life, and the influence of which is likely to be felt for an indefinite period in domestic relationships."

"Nineteen out of 20 of the cases in arrears," Lord Birkenhead added, "had their causes in the war or consequences of the war. The date when he joined the army was the early chronological landmark of petitioner after petitioner, from which date the familiar and melancholy story of weakness on the part of the wife."

It is Lord Birkenhead's opinion that matrimonial suits may not return, at least for a generation, to the pre-war level.

The anomaly of the present situation has revived controversies on the inadequacies of English divorce laws.

Mrs. Seaton-Thompson, secretary of the Divorce Law Reform union, estimates that the number of wrecked marriages in the United Kingdom is higher in proportion to the population than in the United States.

PAJAMAS BEING WORN IN TURKEY ON THE STREETS

(By Associated Press)
CONSTANTINOPLE, Turkey, July 7.—American Red Cross and army pajamas are being converted into laundry street clothes here by ingenious Russian refugee soldiers and civilians.

Hugh S. Bird, treasurer of the Red Cross, when here on a visit of inspection to dispose of a large quantity of supplies laid up in the warehouses, saw a spick-and-span, monocled Russian officer, flourishing a cane and fanning himself with a straw hat, at the local Red Cross office, asking for some mail.

The officer looked so well put up that Mr. Bird stopped feeling sorry for the Russians for a moment, until he took a second look at his attire. He then saw that the man had taken a suit of pajamas, sewed some shoulder strap braid on them, strapped his officers' belt about them and rolled up the bottoms to give a trouser effect. By taking off his hat, shoes and belt the man was ready to go to bed.

Mr. Bird thought so well of the ingenuity of the man who had devalued the hot weather that he gave orders for several thousand more pajamas to be distributed so no Russian need wear his heavy, shabby winter clothes.

PARACHUTES TO MEETING FROM HIS DIRIGIBLE

(By Associated Press)
REDFORD, England, July 7.—A light watchman at the royal airship hangar at Cardington near here got the surprise of his life when he saw a parachute dropping from the sky early in the morning a few days ago. "Can I get a lead here?" asked a calm voice.

The parachutist was Air Commodore E. N. Maitland, on his way home to Howden air station from Epsom aboard the dirigible R-33 which had acted as official traffic controller and wireless station at the Derby races.

Commodore Maitland explained he had suddenly remembered that he had to attend an important meeting at the Cardington station in the early morning. "The only way to get there in time was to jump out of it," he said.

Recently he was testing scales in local stores and was using several cast iron weights painted a dull silver color. At one time he left one of the weights in his automobile. When he returned, some one had stolen the bar of iron but looked like silver.

CLAIM MOVIES AMERICANIZING ENGLISH CHILD

(By Associated Press)
LONDON, July 7.—English children are rapidly becoming Americanized through seeing nothing but American moving pictures, is the contention of A. G. Granger, manager of an educational picture series who holds that film education ought to be a part of every school curriculum.

"Millions of children go to the pictures regularly," he said to an interviewer. "In American films no opportunity is lost to introduce the American flag; American motors are shown and popularized; American ideas in dress, furniture, habits and customs are being continually put before the children, with the result that they know more about Lincoln and the North and South war than about Oliver Cromwell and Nelson. "Where did the fashion for bobbed hair come from? From America, and by the film," he added.

All English teachers are now in favor of introducing the film into the schools, Mr. Granger says.
